1. Giving the directive for wealth right now.

So to begin at the beginning of this delicious conversation that is all about your directive for wealth, we want to invite you to give your directive for wealth today, right now, right here.

So let's look at the words that we are using here just for a moment before we begin. First of all, it is your directive, meaning that it is a decision that you are making, and you are directing your reality to operate in this way.

And if you noticed in the way that we described this conversation, wealth can really mean anything. What it means is an abundance of what is wanted: an abundance of cash; an abundance of delicious, amazing, powerful, delightful relationships; an abundance of vibrant and vital health; an abundance of wonderful work, self-expression in whatever way that is abundantly right for you; an abundance of wisdom; an abundance of joy; an abundance of just about anything, anything it is that you desire.

And if you cannot really say, "Well, wealth is this, for me," as you follow along in this conversation, you might just simply notice that wealth is also, as we see it, the notion that you are living a life that is delightful for you, right now and right here, in exactly the way that you enjoy.

So you could simply just notice yourself, for example, observing a life where things are working out marvelously, where synchronicities abound, where there is an abundance of cash, an abundance of joy, an abundance of the love that you have between you and your friends, your beloved, your loved ones, family, even just the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker. Just noticing how wonderfully delightful your life is because you have decided to have it this way.

So your directive for wealth is just simply a memo you are sending to the universe of your thoughts saying, "Provide an abundance of that which is wanted." And do so now.

So the way you could do this, and this is just one possible way — there's many, many different ways to do this — is just simply to take a moment and to close your eyes and to imagine that you are writing out a memo.

And that in this memo, it says:

Dear universe of my thoughts,

Thank you ever so much for all that you have been providing for me in the most wonderful and magical way.

I deeply appreciate everything that I have been experiencing up to this moment that you have been providing to me through the infinite intelligence that you are.

As the one who is deciding, from where I'm sitting, it is my decision to provide you with this directive for wealth.

In this directive, what I am instructing you to do is to bring to me everything that I am delightedly and deliciously desiring, to do so in the right way, and in the right measure, that is exactly right for me, at whatever moment I might be in, and to do so abundantly.

For I am here to live my life abundantly and this is my instruction to me.

This is my directive to you for wealth. I instruct you to bring me a wealth of wonderful relationships with amazing people.

I instruct you to bring me an abundance of delicious and wonderful experiences in all manners, shapes and sizes — from the most mundane to the most deliciously expansive.

I instruct you to bring me an abundance of cash in ways that are just right and perfect for me.

I instruct you to bring me an abundance of creativity, of ideas that are truly magical and amazing.

I instruct you to bring me an abundance of intention for the good and the joy and the delight that I truly desire, going forward.

I instruct you to bring me an abundance of awareness for how amazing my life is right now.

I instruct you to bring me an abundance of delight just for being where I am at any given moment.

And, while this list is certainly not exhaustive, dear universe of my thoughts, for you are, indeed, powered by infinite intelligence and know far beyond the scope of what I can instruct you here.

I also further instruct you to remind me, in the most wonderful of times, at the most perfect of ways, that I have indeed given you this directive for wealth, and that you are faithfully, powerfully, and in astonishing ways, fulfilling my every command.

So this directive for wealth is done.

It is complete, and it is perfect.

Yours very truly,

(And there you would sign your name.)

So we want you to consider what it is that we just brought forth.

Not because you need to follow every bit, byte, piece, and part of this, but simply because it would be a very good idea to pay attention to what you are saying.

Not because it's the right thing, but because it will give you all sorts of ideas for what is perfect for you.

This directive may not be exhaustive. It may not be fully powered with each and every thing. But it is your instruction. And your instruction will be carried out. Because that is your role. You are the one who decides how it is going to be and what it is going to look like.

This wonderful moment, right here, right now, is the one in which you are having everything that you are desiring. It is already happening. Even if you are just simply thinking about whether this would be a good idea or not, the fact that you heard these words is more important than almost anything else. Because this has arisen, remember, for you, very specifically, so that you can have what it is that you indeed want.

It is our suggestion that you take these words, you take this idea, and you apply them in a way that makes sense to you.

Perhaps it doesn't make any sense to write a memo. Perhaps it makes better sense to just simply say out loud, "This is what I am wanting, and this is what I am having. And thank you very much."

Certainly you would want to offer your appreciation for what it is that the universe of your thoughts indeed is bringing you because, of course, it is always wonderful, as you revel and delight in something, to notice that it came to you in exactly the right way, and to offer your appreciation for that.

There is something quite powerful here, something quite wonderful, and something quite amazing about this wonderful, powerful, delicious and amazing conversation. We invite you to notice that this is it. You are in the right place, at the right time, and in the right way.

And we thank you very much for bringing your attention to this matter. You see, our appreciation to you is because what you are doing here, as you have summoned this conversation forth, is you are giving very powerfully your attention to the manifestation of what it is that you intend to have.

And there is nothing more delicious for us than to be with you as you do this.

Acknowledgments

Many heartfelt thanks to Minda Bernstein for her wonderful and intuitive transcriptions. Without her work, this book would not have been possible.

Thank you to every person who has brought their unique physical perspective into the amazing Communion of Light vortex, in whatever way, and has been a delicious part of the evolution of these dynamic and astonishing conversations.
